

BARNES & NOBLE

BOOKSELLERS

Friday, April 16th at 7pm

Lulu Gordon Poetry Reading

Lulu Gordon has evolved from married to single, urbanite to Marinite, lawyer to poet.

She is younger now. And wiser. A happier version of herself. Briefcase discarded. She now comes armed with pigtails, poetry and a guitar.

Raised in Hawaii, lulu was a combination of straight A student and beach girl. Leaving sand for ivy she attended Dartmouth College and then law school at Georgetown. She practiced business litigation and patent law with prestigious law firms in New York and San Francisco. "Tired of arguing," she left the law to focus on growing organizations through marketing and communications. Along the way she found love and love lost.